History Spotlight—Christ Kids

In the mid—late 70's, the Church began something called the Children's Bible Hour which then became what we now know as Christ Kids. Barb Henry was in charge of the program then. They were picking up kids by bus on Sunday mornings to be part of it. Barb and another member along with some of the teens went out to the kid's homes each Saturday back then to see if they would be getting a ride on the bus to the Church that Sunday. She would then go along on Sunday mornings to help gather them with Loran Dinkel as the bus driver.

They had a puppet stage with puppets as part of the program for the Christ Kids then and Barb remembers that a teen named Suzanne would play as the cookie monster sometimes. Now Suzanne and her husband Scott Fuson still visit us at times with their adult children Alexis and Zach along with their young families.

Since then and still today our kids get to enjoy Christ Kids and we want to thank Barb for her part in getting it started way back when it began.
