

Wisdom for 2026: Learning to Trust Again

Trust is one of those words we use easily but practice reluctantly. We talk about trusting God, sing about trusting God, and even pray about trusting God—yet when life becomes uncertain, trust is often the first thing we quietly take back.

The Book of Proverbs speaks directly into that tension. In a world filled with options, opinions, and endless information, Proverbs offers wisdom that is not loud or flashy, but steady and deeply grounded. It reminds us that wisdom is not only about knowing what to do—it is about knowing who to rely on when the way forward is unclear.

Proverbs invites us to trust God not partially, not cautiously, but wholeheartedly. This kind of trust is not naïve optimism or blind faith. It does not deny difficulty or ignore reality. Instead, it is a deliberate choice to place confidence in God's character rather than our own limited perspective. Trust, in the biblical sense, is less about having all the answers and more about choosing direction over certainty.

Many of us begin the New Year 2026 carrying decision fatigue, lingering anxiety, and the quiet pressure to “figure everything out.” We lean heavily on our own understanding because it feels safer and more familiar. Yet Proverbs gently challenges that instinct. Wisdom, it suggests, grows when we loosen our grip on control and acknowledge that God sees the whole picture—even when we only see the next step.

Trust also shapes the paths we take. When we insist on relying solely on ourselves, life can become complicated, reactive, and exhausting. When we trust God, our path may not always be easy, but it becomes clearer, steadier, and more purposeful. Wisdom does not promise a life without obstacles; it promises a life guided by the One who knows where the road leads.

As we continue our Wisdom for 2026 sermon series, we are exploring how ancient wisdom speaks directly to modern uncertainty. This week's focus invites us to reflect honestly: where are we leaning, and what might change if we trusted God more fully?

Wisdom begins with reverence. It grows through trust. And it unfolds one faithful step at a time.

Feeling drained?

Caregiving can be rewarding, but it is also challenging. Taking time for yourself can make you a better caregiver.

Take Care of Yourself as a Caregiver

“The Well” (Caregiver Support Group)

Are you currently caring for a loved one, whether a parent, spouse, child or friend? Caregiving, while done in love, often drains one's energy. Caregivers often have a sense of feeling useful and needed, however the ongoing demands of caring for someone can lead to a Caregiver neglecting caring for themselves.

Here are a few signs.

- Are you feeling exhausted, overwhelmed or anxious
- Are you feeling lonely or disconnected from others
- Easily angered or impatient
- Trouble sleeping

MVPC is offering a Caregiver Support Group to give you the opportunity to meet with other Caregivers and share how things are going. This is a safe place to share and ask questions. Let us help you refuel and refill your “Well”!

First meeting on January 22 at 10:00am – 11:00am.

Doing Good - The Book of Titus

If Christians are "saved by grace," totally apart from good works, what difference does it make if we Do Good or not? In this series, from the book of Titus, Chip Ingram reveals that there are four key reasons why Doing Good matters so much. He also explains how we can become people who habitually Do Good – and the first step begins with who we are, not what we do. According to Scripture, Doing Good is not just a suggestion, it is very powerful, and can be costly. Chip encourages us, however, that the price of not Doing Good, can be even more costly. This series clarifies what Doing Good will do in you and then through you, for the benefit of others and the glory of God.

Jesus Changes Everything (YOUTH)

* Note: The real-life stories in this series contain mature themes.*

Teenagers often feel trapped. They're stuck in the same habits, depression sets in, and they wonder about their purpose. Life might seem pointless or hopeless at best. The lie that says nothing will ever change pulls teenagers deeper into the rut.

But Jesus offers a way out. He reaches down to give life—a new path to follow. He has the power to free us from habits, redeem our relationships, and give us a new identity. It all begins by deciding to follow Him, because a life surrendered to Jesus is a life transformed.

In this 4-part series, Nick Hall, Founder and Chief Communicator for PULSE, a ministry focused on reaching the next generation for Christ, talks to students about how a relationship with Jesus changes everything—our identity, relationships, habits, and mission. Students will be challenged to allow Jesus to transform every aspect of their lives.

Off the Couch Into Creation - Season 1

Join the Wild Brothers — Morgan, Hudson, Kian, and Asher — as they transition from their adventurous upbringing in Indonesia to exploring the natural wonders of the United States.

Determined to prove that adventure isn't limited to distant lands, they embark on journeys starting right in their backyard. This award-winning series inspires families to discover the beauty and excitement of God's creation close to home.

God's Uncommon Man Tony Dungy & James Brown

She is healthy and is spayed and vaccinated. She barks when meeting new people but then becomes friendly and likes to be petted.

The current owner would like to give Cookie a good and loving home.
