I have lived in the Quad Cities for 26 years and work as a Radiology/CT tech at Mercy One Genesis in Silvis. I grew up singing in the youth and adult choir at Morgan Park Presbyterian Church, in Chicago, and also sang in the school choir. My husband, Chris and I lived in Moline, Illinois and attended a church there for many years before buying a house and moving to Davenport in December of 2018. Chris wanted to join a Presbyterian church closer to home. As we were researching, my criteria was that they had to have a choir. That's when we found First Presbyterian Church, started attending online (due to Covid) in January 2022, and joined in October of the same year. I sing in the sanctuary choir and play in the bell choir (something that I have always wanted to do). I also help with the youth on Sunday evenings. We enjoy watching the local baseball team and occasionally the hockey team. We are treat suppliers and servants to three parrots, Cosmo, Yoshi, and Mango.
