

Be The Bridge (Blessed are The Bridge Builders)

Lyrics and style: Kathy Beasley

Music and Vocals created with and in collaboration with AI

I have seen love move softly and change the way a life can go.

A call returned.
A chair pulled close.
A name spoken with care.
A simple hello with healing in it.

This is how blessing moves.
One person.
One choice.
One open heart.
Love finds a way to travel.

[Verse 1]

Blessed are the ones who breathe before they speak.

They remember who they are.
Whole and clear.
Held in God.
Ready for love.

They bring peace with them.
They bless what they touch.

I want to be one of those people.

I want my life
to make passage possible.
I want my words to open windows.
I want my listening to say you are sacred.

There is a way love moves when the heart is ready.
There is a way peace shows when someone chooses to come closer.

[Chorus]

Blessed are the bridge builders.
The ones who love anyway.
Blessed are the bridge builders.
Making a way for me and you.

Where the silence had a name,
where the hurt had made a claim,
they keep showing us
what love can do.

Be the bridge.
Let love show up as you.

[Hook]

Be the bridge.
Let love show up as you.

Be the bridge.
Let love show up as you.

[Verse 2]

Blessed are the ones who reach with dignity.

Across the table.
Across the aisle.
Across the message thread.
Across the years that made courage feel far away.

They reach because love is alive.
They reach because peace can move.
They reach because someone remembers we belong to more than our opinions.

I have seen it happen.

A mother softens.
A child speaks.
An old friend says,
I have missed you.

A church listens again.

A neighbor becomes known.
Two different stories find one shared breath.

Truth can stand tall.
Tenderness can stand beside it.

That is the art of the bridge builder.
They honor both sides and make a path where love can walk.

[Chorus]

Blessed are the bridge builders.
The ones who light the way.
Blessed are the bridge builders.
Making a way for me and you.

Where the silence had a name,
where the hurt had made a claim,
they keep showing us
what love can do.

Be the bridge.
Let love show us the way.

[Hook]

Be the bridge.
Let love show us the way.

Be the bridge.
Let love show us the way.

[Verse 3]

Blessed are the ones who keep connection alive.

After the brave word.
After the first embrace.
After the eyes grow soft.
After truth finds a safe place to land.

They keep showing up.

They make care visible.
They give kindness a rhythm.
They let trust grow slowly.
They practice peace
after peace is spoken.

I live that life now.

My hands can carry mercy.
My voice can carry grace.
My choices can make love easy to recognize.

This is the blessing Jesus named.
The living peace of becoming a way through.

[Spoken Word]

Listen.

A bridge does not ask the river to stop being a river.

It honors the distance and still makes passage possible.

A bridge says,
Life can move here.

Forgiveness can move here.
Understanding can move here.
Families can move here.
Communities can move here.
God can be recognized here.

That is why peacemakers are blessed.

They show us love
when love gets practical.
When love gets brave.
When love gets a voice.
A hand.
A heartbeat.
A way across.

Today,
I let love design the way.

Today,
I live the blessing.

Today,
I am the bridge.

[Final Chorus]

Blessed are the bridge builders.
The ones who love anyway.
Blessed are the bridge builders.
Making a way for me and you.

Where the silence had a name,
where the hurt had made a claim,
They keep showing us
What love can do.

Be the bridge.
Let love show up as you.

[Final Hook]

Be the bridge.
Let love show up as you.

Be the bridge.
Let love show up as you.

[Outro Affirmations]

I am whole.
I am complete.
I am clear in love.
I am wise in peace.
I reach with courage.
I listen with compassion.
I speak truth with grace.
I honor every sacred life.
I keep connection alive.
I make love livable.
I am a builder of peace.
I am the bridge.
