Oct 12 | 1 Samuel 3:1-21

Read 1 Samuel 3:1-21, and then spend time reflecting on the following questions:

Reflect: Samuel didn't recognize God's voice at first. What helps you discern when God is speaking? What distractions or noise might be keeping you from hearing? How do you recognize the voice of God in your life?

Think about the people who have guided your faith. How have they helped you hear or respond to God's call? Are you being called to be that voice for someone else? Who are the spiritual mentors or "Eli" figures in your journey?

Samuel responded, "Speak, Lord, for your servant is listening." Can you honestly say that today? What's holding you back from saying yes to God's call? What is God calling you to do right now – even if it feels uncertain or uncomfortable?

Samuel had to deliver a hard message to Eli. Are there things God is showing you about yourself or the world that are hard to accept? How can you hold them with grace and courage? How do you handle difficult truths that God reveals to you?

Samuel didn't just hear – he obeyed. What step of obedience is God asking you to take right now? How might your faith grow through it? How is your relationship with God growing in both listening and obedience?
